Building Your Child’s Future
“From little things big things grow”

St Columba Anglican School is driven by a vision to create a school that offers an education equal to any in New South Wales, or Australia.

Over ten years ago a small group of staff and students saw the realisation of the dream to reintroduce Anglican education to the Hastings.

Gathering on the site of St Thomas’ Church, they waited for their first buildings on Major Innes Road to be built.

Today that small foundation group has grown to over 930 students and over one hundred staff. And what a school we have become, achieving excellent results in all spheres of education we value: Spiritual, Cultural, Academic and Sport.

Since 2010 the Iona Centre has stood as a symbol of what SCAS can build to foster our students’ learning when we have the resources available to us.

As a school, we have a record of being able to build excellent buildings, on time and on budget, but we are aware that the type of government funding that made great new resources like the Iona Centre possible, may not always be available to us.

We have the vision, the plans and the enormous potential of our students before us. What we need are the resources to achieve this potential.

It is a fact that our students’ journey to become leaders and lifelong learners can be constrained by our ability to provide the learning spaces they need.

We have access to the talents of great teachers and a wonderful environment. We have a culture that applauds and values achievement. We are perched on the edge of greatness. To achieve this greatness we must continue to develop our campus.
